

St. John's College of Nursing and Health Sciences
Associate of Science in Nursing
Scholarship Information

St. John's College of Nursing and Health Sciences offers several scholarship opportunities for students who have been officially accepted into or are currently in the Associate of Science in Nursing program.

We are currently updating our information and application process. Scholarship opportunities are discussed at the Admissions Information Meeting held weekly at the college of nursing (call 417.820.2069 for days and times).

03.09.09