Doctor of Physical Therapy and Master of Business Administration DUAL ENROLLMENT

Physical therapists often find that business skills are beneficial. With an MBA, you will have the business skills you need to be successful in healthcare management positions or running a private practice. An optional concentration in Health Administration includes courses with curriculum designed specifically for healthcare-based settings.

Online courses give you the flexibility to complete an MBA and DPT at the same time.

You will strengthen your management skills by focusing on three pillars emphasized in all areas of coursework: entrepreneurship, leadership, and faith integration. Entrepreneurship is a pillar that will train you to continually look for new ideas and opportunities for your business or your employer. Enhancing your leadership qualities will enable you to be a respected servant leader set apart by worldly standards. We also are intentional about being a Christ-centered program fostering high ethical standards essential to successful management practices.

“
An MBA would have been invaluable with the goal to open a clinic down the road. It would have certainly helped to have a grasp of tax implications, legal jargon, small business regulations, EBITDA, etc.
